Overview

The Air Traffic Service 2017 Work Plan is manifested in the DCCG Policy Strategy and Translation in as far as practicable aligned to achieve the Policy objectives and in doing so obliged to maintain the standard and recommended practices (SARP) as required by ICAO and the Civil Aviation Authority of Solomon Islands – (CA Act 2008) and its subsidiary Rule Parts.

Accordingly, this work plan is driven towards meeting the outputs, objectives and expected outcomes that Air Traffic Service should progressively attain to achieve the policy objectives and continuously provides the provisions of services in a translucent, effective, efficient and timely and orderly flow of air navigational services nationally and internationally.

Furtherance, It enhance our commitment to ensure that this work plan is fruitful in transforming the outputs to achieve sound financial benefits and socio economic development in the aviation sector and practically embraced to improve on the revenue base that has been so longed overlooked.

We entice to note that objectives we could not be able to achieve or accomplish will be considered a "Roll-Over" in 2018 Work Plan until we fully accomplish it.

We therefore concludes that in realizing our goals, ambitious plans and expected outcomes can attract various risks and hiccups but in order to minimise the effects and impacts on this work plan, Outputs and Expected outcome, air traffic services is very optimistic for a progressive implementation of the 2017 work plan herein stated in the schedule.

The 2017 communication department annual work plan outlines the priorities of the department in 2017. These priority areas are set in line with the Democratic Coalition for Change government's policy strategy and translation; henceforth, the department endeavors to acquire sufficient knowledge to ensure that practical, efficient and effective communication policies are implemented in the Solomon Islands. Moreover, this annual work plan aims to set a new baseline for collaboration of communication stakeholders to prepare for the convergence of various communication practices into ICT. The major goals to be attained in 2017 include:

- 1) Review of government telephone, wireless and spectrum frequency procurement process
- 2) National ICT and Broadcasting Policy Implementation
- 3) Review of Current Internet service regulations pertaining provider/Hosting
- 4) National ICT Day
- 5) Review of postal practices
- 6) Establishment of aviation emergency communication systems.

The 2017 Communication department 2017 annual plan further emphasis major activities to be carried out in order to achieve the goals, using the estimated budget and acknowledging the risk associated with the prescribed activities.
